POPE FRANCIS' WORDS AT THE ANGELUS PRAYER
Wednesday 12 August 2018

Dear brothers and sisters, and dear young Italians, good morning! In today's second Reading, Saint Paul addresses an urgent invitation to us: "Do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, in whom you were sealed for the day of redemption" (Eph 4: 30). But I wonder, how is the Holy Spirit grieved? We all received Him in Baptism and in Confirmation, therefore, to not grieve the Holy Spirit it is necessary to live in a manner consistent with the promises of Baptism, renewed in Confirmation. In a consistent manner, not with hypocrisy: don't forget this. A Christian cannot be a hypocrite; he must live in a consistent way. The promises of Baptism have two aspects: renouncing evil and adherence to good.

Renouncing evil means to say "no" to temptations, to sin, and to Satan. More concretely, it means saying "no" to a culture of death, which is manifested in fleeing from the real to a false happiness that is expressed in lies, in fraud, in injustice, in contempt for the other. To all this, one must say "no." The new life that was given to us in Baptism, and which has the Spirit as source, rejects a conduct dominated by feelings of division and discord. Therefore, the Apostle Paul exhorts us to remove from the heart "all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander, with all malice" (v. 31). So says Paul. These six elements or vices, which disturb the joy of the Holy Spirit, poison the heart and lead to imprecations against God and against our neighbor.

However, it is not enough not to do evil to be a good Christian; it is necessary to adhere to good. Here then Saint Paul continues: "Be kind to one another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, as God in Christ forgave you" (v. 32). One often hears it said: "I don't harm anyone". And one believes oneself a saint. Yes, but do you do good? How many people don't do evil but don't do good either, and their life unfolds in indifference, in apathy, and in tepidness. Such an attitude is contrary to the Gospel, and it is also contrary to your nature as young people, who by nature are dynamic, passionate and courageous. Remember this — if you remember it, we can repeat it together: it is good not to do evil, but it is evil not to do good". Saint Albert Hurtado said this.

Today I exhort you to be protagonists of the good. Do not think you are fine when you do not do evil. Every one of us is guilty for the good he could have done but did not do. It is not enough not to hate; one must forgive. It is not enough not to be resentful; it is necessary to pray for one's enemies. It is not enough not to be the cause of divisions; it is necessary to bring peace to where it is not present. It is not enough not to speak badly of others; it is necessary to interrupt when we hear someone being spoken of badly: to stop the gossip is to do good. If we do not oppose evil, we fuel it in a tacit way. It is necessary to intervene where evil is being spread because evil spreads where there is a lack of daring Christians who oppose it with the good, "walking in love" (cf. 5:2), in keeping with Saint Paul's admonition.

Dear young people, in these days you have walked a lot! Therefore, you are trained and I can say to you: walk in charity, walk in love! And let us walk together towards the forthcoming Synod of Bishops. May the Virgin Mary support us by her maternal intercession so that each one of us can say every day, through our deeds, "no" to evil and "yes" to good.

JOIN US IN A NOVENA FOR THE LEGAL PROTECTION OF HUMAN LIFE.

The U.S. Bishops invite you to participate in a nationwide Novena for the Legal Protection of Human Life. Each Friday from Aug. 3 to Sept. 28 you can join with thousands across our nation as we pray and fast that a change in the U.S. Supreme Court will move our nation closer to the day when every human life is protected in law and welcomed in life. You can download the Novena and receive the messages weekly by going to www.usccb.org/pray. Printable versions of the Novena can be found at www.fargodiocese.org/respectlife. The weekly prayer is below.

PRAYER for August 24: May a change in the U.S. Supreme Court move our nation closer to the day when every human being is protected in law and welcomed in life. Our Father..., Hail Mary..., Glory Be... FAST: Offer a sacrifice for the intention. LEARN: Roe's extreme abortion license is not widely supported. Abortion advocates claim that Roe enjoys broad public support and some recent polls seem to provide evidence for this claim. But most polls don't explain Roe's extreme abortion license and some misrepresent it. For example, a 2016 Pew Research Center poll claims 69% of Americans favor Roe v. Wade and 28% oppose it.(1) But the poll wrongly describes Roe as establishing "a woman's constitutional right to an abortion, at least in the first three months of pregnancy." The fact is, Roe made abortion legal through all nine months of pregnancy and for virtually any reason.(2)
