HIS HOLINESS POPE FRANCIS
An Excerpt from the GENERAL AUDIENCE
St Peter's Square
Wednesday, 27 June 2018

Dear Brothers and Sisters:The Ten Words begin in this way: "I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage" (Ex 20:2). This beginning would seem foreign to the true and proper laws that follow. But it is not so.

Why does God make this proclamation about himself and about liberation? Because one reaches Mount Sinai after having crossed the Red Sea: the God of Israel first saves, then asks for trust. In other words: the Decalogue begins from God's generosity. God never asks without giving first. First he saves; first he gives; then he asks. Such is our Father: a good God.

Let us understand the importance of the first declaration: "I am the Lord, your God". There is a possessive; there is a relationship; there is belonging. God is not extraneous: he is your God. This illuminates the entire Decalogue and also reveals the secret of Christian action, because it is the very same attitude of Jesus, who says: "As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you" (Jn 15:9). Christ is loved by the Father, and he loves us with that love. He puts not himself but the Father first. Often our deeds fail because we put ourselves, and not gratitude first. And one who begins with himself: where does he end up? He ends up with himself! He is incapable of making headway; he turns in on himself. It is precisely this selfish attitude that, in jest, people say: "that person is just I; me; with me and for me". He begins and ends with himself.

Christian life is above all the grateful response to a generous Father. Christians who only fulfill their 'duties' do not have a personal experience with that God who is 'ours'. I must do this, this, that.... Only duties. But you lack something! What is the foundation of this duty? The foundation of this duty is the love of God the Father, who gives first, then commands.
