Pope Francis' words at the Angelus Prayer
August 11, 2019

Dear Brothers and Sisters, Good morning!

In today's Gospel reading (see Lk 12: 32-48), Jesus recalls His disciples to continual vigilance. Why? To grasp the passage of God in one's own life, because God continually passes through life. And He shows the ways to live this vigilance well: "Be dressed ready for service and keep your lamps burning" (35). This is the way. Above all, "Be dressed ready for service", an image that recalls the attitude of the pilgrim, ready to set out on a journey. It means not laying down roots in comfortable and reassuring dwellings, but abandoning oneself, being open with simplicity and trust to the passage of God in our life, to the will of God Who guides us towards the next destination. The Lord always journeys with us and very often takes us by the hand, to guide us, so that we do not err in this difficult journey. Indeed, those who trust in God know well that the life of faith is not something static, but it is dynamic! The life of faith is a continuing journey, heading towards ever new stages, that the Lord indicates day after day. Because He is the Lord of surprises, the Lord of newness, of real true newness. And then – the first way was "be dressed ready for service" – then we are required to "keep the lamps burning", to be able to light up the darkness of the night. We are invited, that is, to live an authentic and mature faith, capable of illuminating the many "nights" of life. We know, we have all had days that were true spiritual nights. The lamp of faith needs to be continuously nurtured, with the heart-to-heart meeting with Jesus in prayer and by listening to His Word. I repeat something I have told you many times: always carry a small Gospel in your pocket, in your bag, to read it. It is an encounter with Jesus, with the Word of Jesus. This lamp of the encounter with Jesus in prayer and in His Word is entrusted to us for the good of all: therefore, no one can retreat in an intimistic way into the certainty of his own salvation, without interest in others. It is a fantasy to believe that alone one can illuminate oneself within. No, it is a fantasy. True faith opens our hearts to others and spurs us towards concrete communion with our brothers, especially those in need.
